Go to Login

Click Instructor login

Students will have their own accounts (Student View) to see their class schedules and grades. You can use Instructor View to directly communicate with your students, including sending test reminders, snow information, etc.; grade students; and update your personal information with CPE.

This account is not tied to any other BU account, but first, you will need to set it up.

Login at: cpe.bu.edu

Establish your Instructor View account.

Your username is your BU name (the part before the @bu.edu in your email address), but this account is not tied to each other. The password rules are different, and it is possible that you will have two different passwords – for BU accounts (BU Works and Blackboard) and one for Destiny One.

RE125 - Practical Legal Knowledge for the Real Estate Professional

Course Description

This course provides a practical, in-depth examination of many legal issues essential for the understanding of real estate investment, development, and operations, as well as how the rules and regulations made by local, state, and the federal government affect real estate in general. Participants develop a working knowledge of laws affecting financing, acquisition, leasing, sale, and the documents associated with those events.

CPE faculty are referred to as "academic professionals" and not "professors" or "instihigher education, the terms "professor" and "instructor" have a specific meaning, i.e. approval of the provost, the highest academic officer of a university. They have experiresearch and publishing their findings in academic journals. We may use the terms int ease of language, but externally we use "academic professionals."

Boston University is able to offer our faculty some benefits. The following is a list of sc Please check with Human Resources and the other offices if you have additional ques information is in the Faculty Handbook on the faculty website.
